With less than a month to go, candidates running in the June 7 general election are making last minute bids for support from the community.

Most city councilman, as well as the mayor, will be running in this election.

Mayor Eddie Favre faces opposition from Republican challenger Danny Johnson.

Favre has been mayor of Bay St. Louis for 16 years. Favre felt the biggest accomplishment of his last term was the national recognition that Bay St. Louis had received, such as hosting the Dixie Girls World Series, and the National League of Cities directors convention.

At a forum held for Ward 3 candidates in April, Favre said he was especially proud of the economic development the city of Bay St. Louis had undergone in the past year, citing the decrease in unemployment as an example.

"If someone is not working now, it is more by choice than opportunity," he said.

If reelected, Favre said, he feels the most important issues will be the annexation of the Highway 603 business corri-

Navy special boat team demonstration in Waveland

Armed Forces Day is this Sat., May 21, beginning at 11 a.m.

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Veteran organizations of Hancock County and the City of Waveland plan to honor our Armed Forces with a "Show of Force" by having the Naval Special Warfare, Special Boat Team-22 perform a Combat demonstration, in the vicinity of the Veterans Monument at the foot of Coleman Avenue in Waveland at 11 a.m. on Saturday, May 21.

The Special Boat Team-22 is based on the Stennis Space Center facility bordering on the Pearl River.

Other military units from Hancock County and the neighboring counties will also provide static displays of military equipment. The list of participants is growing daily.

The public is invited and this is an opportunity for all citizens to show their support for our troops by turning out in large numbers. Not only will we show our appreciation, but we will also be treated to demonstrations of the capabilities of today's forces. And the opportunity to talk one-on-one with military personnel is priceless.

Mayor Longo is enthusiastically supporting this event and has "waived the fees" for entrance to the Garfield-Ladner pier, which should provide a wonderful vantage point to observe the extravaganza. So, you may want come early to get a good spot.

The Coleman Avenue Coalition will hold its annual "Can-Painting" Contest during the day and the public is encouraged to participate.

The decorative cans will be placed along Coleman Avenue to assist in maintaining a clean and pleasant city.

Fenton resident killed in car accident

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

A Fenton area resident was killed in a one-vehicle accident on the Fenton-Dedeaux Road, Saturday night, Sheriff Steve Garber reports.

Derick J. Ladner, 21, was pronounced dead at Hancock Medical Center following an accident in a curve on the Fenton-Dedeaux Road around 11:30 p.m. on May 14, Investigator John Luther said.

"Occupants of the vehicle were Ladner and Mark T. Manuel, Jr., 21, also of Fenton," Luther said. "They were in a pickup truck about one-quarter-mile South of the Rocky-Hill Dedeaux Road, traveling South on the Fenton-Dedeaux Road."

"The driver lost control in the curve, left on the left shoulder of the road and struck a tree. Manuel was taken to Garden Park Hospital, treated and released," Luther said. Deputies Wesley Lossett, Brian Cuevas and David King were among those who responded to the accident.

Luther, who is in charge of the case said, "The accident is still under investigation."

Local leaders learning about 'Smart Growth'

BY BENNIE
SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Movers and shakers from across the Gulf Coast attended the Sixth Annual Smart Growth Conference held at the Grand Casino Bayview Convention Center in Biloxi this week. Speakers offered ideas on how to balance environmental concerns with economic development.

But beyond just the issues of environmental concerns, some speakers addressed a relatively new issue, at least for the Mississippi Gulf Coast, quality of life and preservation of our national heritage area.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast was one of the three areas named in 2004 as a National Heritage area. There are 27 such areas nationwide.

National Heritage areas are chosen among other factors, for their interest in historic preservation, conservation of natural settings that make the area unique, and the planning a community has done to preserve local heritage and core values.

The preservation of these values offer a new tourist attraction, heritage tourism, say the Alliance of National Heritage Areas.

Speaker, author, land use planner, site designer and advocate of what he calls conservation planning

Randall Arendt suggested a fresh new approach to development, in effect, a reversal of the normal planning process.

Most county and municipal codes actually encourage sprawl and do little to enhance the quality of life for a community, Arendt said. Rather than traditional planning, which lays out streets and lot lines in a checkerboard pattern, Arendt suggests, planning new development much in the same way that a developer would plan a golf course community, but without the golf courses.

In a golf course community, Arendt says, you can bet that the golf course was the first land to be set aside, with lots and streets planned around the green space. In a neighborhood development, the green area could become a natural preserve with pathways, park area or other common space.

It is proven economics that homes built with green space views sell much quicker than homes without such an amenity, Arendt says, and with careful planning a developer can achieve the same density while preserving the integrity of local landscapes that make an area unique. Surveys show that 40 percent of home owners on golf courses do not even play golf, but just prefer the open view, he says.

North Bay students learn through the arts

Working with Bay Clay Studio Director Talle Johnson, students in Mrs. Stacey Ferguson's multi-age class recently created African masks as part of their study of the continent. "Art reaches all learners," said Ferguson.

With content and cultural lessons prepared by Ferguson and pottery lessons prepared by Marie Bernard, teaching assistant and pottery student, students received a well rounded view of life in Africa, past and present.

Bernard has been an active participant in the "Teaching the Teacher" project of the city of Bay Saint Louis. Her instructor, Talle Johnson, challenged the teacher participants to teach more deeply, to move beyond the surface level of a subject.

"Marie knew that using problem solving techniques in a hands-on art project could transfer to student learning across the curriculum. Together we developed our African project with exciting results," Ferguson commented.

Student Dominique Snow said, "I learned lots of stuff (about African masks). I learned how they use their masks. They use it to tell stories and in worship... I feel great about how my mask came out even though the turquoise didn't turn out right because I made the cheetah myself and I

Elizabeth Lea wrote, "My mask represents Cleopatra in the after life... I feel that it is unique and I am very proud of it also."

"I enjoyed this activity because you have to check for air bubbles in the clay. When the air bubble blows up in the kiln, the mask comes apart. My mask represents the spirit of Africa," wrote Wayne Joseph Hoffman.

"Teaching the Teacher" is a BayArts project of the city of Bay Saint Louis in cooperation and partnership with master potter, Talle Johnson. Local public school teachers have participated in the project for the past two years.

Instruction is provided free of charge, with the teacher/students providing their own supplies. Additional studio time is provided with consultations with Johnson to refine techniques, beyond regularly scheduled classes.

"The students learned about Africa and ancient civilizations and the use of clay to create the masks used to enrich the lives of those earlier times," ended Ferguson.

Don't miss 'Show of Force' at Waveland

On Saturday, a special event will take place at Coleman Avenue and Beach Boulevard in Waveland. In celebration of Armed Forces Day, American Legion Post 77 and the City of Waveland are hosting a "Show of Force" along with Veterans Organizations of Hancock County.

The special feature for the general public will take place near the Veterans Memorial, Coleman Avenue at 11 a.m., involving a mock Combat Demonstration on the beach by Special Boat Team 22, from the John C. Stennis Space Center, an arm of the Naval Special Warfare Group.

In addition, there will be static displays for the public of the teams' boats, in addition to other military displays from Hancock and neighboring counties.

This will be a great time to see a demonstration by Special Boat 22 and the type of actions they can perform across the waters of the world.

By the way, Waveland's Garfield Ladner Memorial pier should be a great place to view all of the action, so you may want get there early to get a good spot.

Armed Forces Day chairman for Post 77 is Russell Voorhies, who says, "The public is invited and this is an opportunity for all citizens to show their support for our troops by turning out in large numbers. Not only will we show our appreciation, but we will also be treated to demonstrations of the capabilities of today's forces. And the opportunity to talk one-on-one with military personnel is priceless."

Following the beach demonstration, there will be a gathering of Hancock County Veterans organizations members at American Legion Post 77, on Coleman Avenue for a picnic on the Post's grounds.

We hope to see you at the big Armed Forces Celebration in Waveland on Saturday.

Do not forget the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours this evening from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Sponsors are the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club and Cellular South.

This is an opportunity to enjoy some very good snacks and refreshments too, as well as to renew old friendships and make new ones.

Bring along several business cards, as there will be some nice door prizes too.

I hope to see you at the Business After

Legislators getting what they asked for

The old adage, "Be careful of what you wish for, you may get it," may very well be the case with our state Legislature where partisanship has resulted in gridlock.

Back when Mississippi was a one-party Democratic state, I thought two-party competitive politics would be a better prescription to make our political system more productive. I gave encouragement to Republicans, chronicling their nascent gains.

However, I didn't conceive back then how two-party cleavage could split the Legislature in the 21st century, fueled by a highly partisan governor bent on shrinking state funded services, and I'm having second thoughts.

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

First, a bit of history: Back in my early days of covering Mississippi politics, it bothered me when politicians by and large ran for office under the Democratic label only as a matter of convenience—they were Democrats in name only. Meantime, there was no bona-fide Mississippi Republican Party.

What passed for the official state Democratic party in Mississippi didn't actually consider itself a part of the National Democratic Party. We were far out of the mainstream of national politics. Consequently, no Democratic presidential candidate or sitting Democratic president set foot in Mississippi for 40 years. Franklin D. Roosevelt as president made a brief stop on the Gulf Coast in 1937, but it was not until 1976 that former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter became the first candidate for the presidential nomination to campaign around the state.

John F. Kennedy did make a memorable appearance before Mississippi's Young Democrats in Jackson's old Heidelberg Hotel in 1957, but he was not yet a presidential candidate.

Meanwhile, Mississippi's erstwhile Democrats, did their best to kick the National party in the shins by staging third-party bolts in 1948, 1960 and 1968, and flocking to vote for Arizona Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater in 1964 over sitting Democratic President Lyndon Johnson because Goldwater had voted against LBJ's civil rights act.

As history records, Johnson won reelection by a landslide, and Mississippi found itself in company with only three other states in the Goldwater column.

Even though afterwards there was no mass conversion of office-holders to the GOP ranks, for a Republican to carry Mississippi, historically considered the epitome of the Democratic Solid South, signaled a political shift.

Looking back, though racial backlash was largely at the core of the Goldwater sweep, the fact that large

Barbour's plan not enough for schools

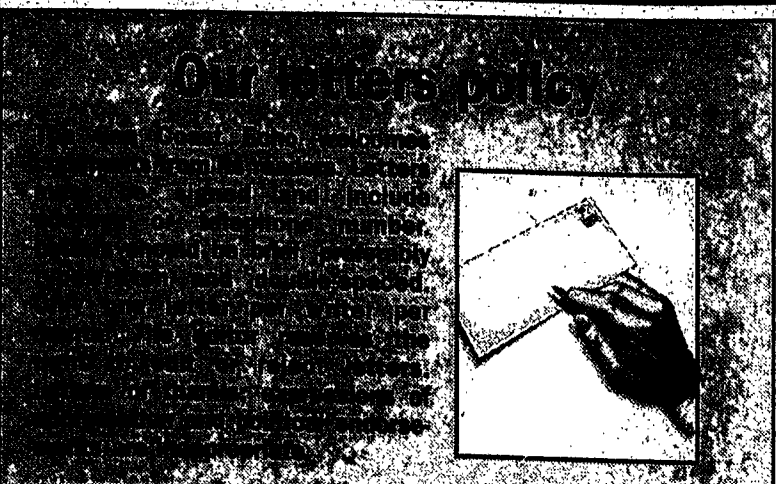

Letter to the Editor:
When I was growing up, my mom always told me that if you make a promise, you should keep it. It is a principle that I use in the classroom and in my personal life. In 2003, lawmakers promised children that education would be their top priority. And while Governor Haley Barbour's new proposed budget for FY 2006 brings us closer to full funding, it does not fulfill the promise. The Mississippi Adequate Education Program is that promise.

Governor Barbour says that his new budget "provides twice as much money for classroom supplies and instructional materials," than the 2005 budget. The 2005 budget gave teachers $100 dollars for supplies, so if the "new" budget gives teachers twice as much, it will only be $200. As a middle school teacher $200 dollars is not enough, especially when a one cent tax increase, voted on by the people of this State, provided teachers with $600 to $700 dollars for supplies.

Another example of the shortcomings of the Governor's budget centers on teacher pay. While MAE fully supports increasing teacher pay, we know that increasing teacher pay, but failing to fund school districts will mean a reduction in teachers. And if there are fewer teachers, districts, principals, and administrators will have no other option than to increase class sizes, and the cycle of negative effects go on and on. The Mississippi Association of Educators believes that we must approach funding the MAEP from a holistic approach, meaning school

Perhaps our souls need to be nourished

We're sure we aren't the only Waveland residents who were saddened and embarrassed to see how few people put out bags on Saturday for the post office's annual food drive.

Mississippians are supposed to be the most charitable people in the nation, and we remember a year when Waveland's contributions surpassed all the other cities along the Coast.

It doesn't take much time to open a cabinet, pull out some cans or foodstuffs that you'll never miss and may well have forgotten you had, put them in a plastic bag and carry them out to the mailbox.

There were notices in the newspaper, and there were reminders in the mail. So, what's your excuse?

Johnson announces for Bay Mayor spot

Danny Johnson, Republican, has announced his candidacy for Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis in the June 7, 2005 general election.

In making his announcement Johnson said, "I want the citizens of Bay St. Louis to understand that they have the choice to make a change. If elected Mayor, I pledge to make myself available and accessible to all citizens of Bay St. Louis. I feel that it is important for the Mayor to be a voice for every citizen and to address their needs and concerns as they arise."

Johnson said, "I have a lot of experience in city government having served formerly as the Public Works Supervisor of the City of Bay St. Louis, as well as experience in business."

Johnson is currently the vice-president of operations for Megatronics Security, dealing with commercial and residential security needs through Mississippi.

"As a lifelong resident of this area, I feel that I am very much attuned to the needs of the community as a whole. I would like to see the restoration of the businesses lost by Bay St. Louis in recent years, as it is vital to our economic growth. I would also like to keep Bay St. Louis as very family friendly community, as well as a great place to visit," Johnson added.

Johnson continued, "I am asking for your support so that I can serve you, the citizens of Bay St. Louis, with an open-door policy of integrity, honesty, accessibility, and fiscal responsibility."

Minor -- poor legislators numbers of white Mississippians marked ballots for the long-hated Republican Party gave the state's economic and business conservatives cover to publicly declare they had found a new partisan home.

And when Congress enacted the 1965 Voting Rights Act pushed by LBJ, opening ballot power to thousands of the state's blacks, it marked a noticeable movement of many rural white Mississippians toward the state's Republican ranks.

By the 1980s, growth of Republicans in Mississippi and a growing number of black Democrats made party realignment in the state apparent and state Democrats found their survival heavily reliant on holding together a delicate black-white coalition.

State Republicans, aided by the social issue message pushed by the national GOP, found by the end of the 1990s that tapping into Mississippi's innate religious conservatism gave them a rich reservoir to broaden their numbers and gain what their party chairman calls numerical "parity" in the Legislature.

A resulting heavy infusion of disciplined anti-tax Republican legislators, pitted against traditionally undisciplined Democratic lawmakers, has left the Legislature unable to raise new revenues to fund vital education and health care services. Now lawmakers are forced into an unprecedented special session where GOP ideologue Gov. Haley Barbour sets the agenda.

Elected Democrats hold a 30-vote majority in the House and have a battle-hardened Democratic speaker.

But in the Senate, although Democrats hold a 28-24 edge, they are powerless to mount a solid opposition front under Republican Lt. Gov. Amy Tuck, who is both their presiding officer, as well as enforcer of the Barbour party line.

Millsaps College history Professor and political savant Robert McElvaine sees what now exists in the Mississippi Legislature as actually a "one and a half" party system rather than a two-party system.

He argued on last week's Mississippi Public Broadcasting's "Town Hall" that Barbour, by forging Republican lawmakers into lockstep support of his proposals and policies, has taken over the GOP's counterpart to Democrats in the Legislature.

Some political veterans say Mississippi was actually better off in the days of a "no-party" system than having a Legislature where districts will have enough money to operate and meet accountability standards, while making sure each classroom has enough materials, and teachers are paid a competitive salary. MAEP is not asking for anything that is not in the law. The MAEP is a farsighted, balanced approach to ensuring every child in this State receives an education that allows them to be nationally competitive. The continued under funding of the MAEP will undermine the progress that Mississippi is making in student achievement. As a state on the cusp of economic progress, we cannot allow that to happen. The Mississippi Association of Educators will continue to partner with parents and community members in the fight for public education.

As we prepare for the special session, MAEP would like to thank those Representatives and Senators who have supported funding public education. We continue to urge our lawmakers who have not supported funding the MAEP to keep their promise to our children.

Sincerely,
Beverly Brahan,
President

Stroke screening set for June 1 in BSL

Residents living in and around the Bay Saint Louis community can be screened to reduce their risk of having a stroke. Life Line Screening will be at the Our Lady of the Gulf Church on June 1.

The site is located at 228 S. Beach Blvd. in Bay Saint Louis. Appointments will begin at 9 a.m.

A stroke, also known as a "brain attack", is ranked as the third leading killer in the world, and the second among women. Through preventive screenings, the risk of having a stroke can be greatly reduced.

Screenings are fast, painless and low cost. They involve the use of ultrasound technology, and scan for potential health problems related to: blocked arteries which can lead to a stroke, aortic aneurysms which can lead to a ruptured aorta, and hardening of the arteries in the legs, which are a strong predictor of heart disease. Also offered for men and women, is a bone density screening to assess their risk for osteoporosis.

"I might never have known I had a blockage if it were not for your screening," James R. Neal, Sr., Ripley, MS.

Each screening requires ten minutes or less to complete. A complete vascular screening package, including the Stroke/Carotid Artery, Abdominal Aortic Aneurysm and Ankle Brachial Index (hardening of the arteries) screenings is $109.

Sign-up for a complete vascular package; include the osteoporosis screening and pay only $129.

Life Line Screening was established in 1993, and has since become the nation's leading provider of vascular screenings. Over 45 ultrasound teams are on staff to travel to your local community, bringing the screenings to you.

These non-invasive, inexpensive and painless, ultrasound tests help people identify their risk for stroke, vascular diseases or osteoporosis early enough for their physician to begin preventive procedures.

For more information regarding the screenings or to schedule an appointment, call 1-800-697-9721. Pre-registration is required.

Hancock School District summer feeding program to begin June 1

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Hancock County School District is sponsoring its 17th annual Summer Feeding Program for children in our area and will offer breakfast and lunch at four school locations. Service will be provided at Gulfview Elementary in Lakeshore from June 1 to July 22 (no feeding on July 5), at Hancock North Central Elementary in Kiln and Charles B. Murphy Elementary in Pearlington from June 1 to July 1, and at Hancock Middle School in Kiln from June 6 to July 1. The hours for breakfast at each location are 8 a.m. to 8:30 a.m., and lunch will be served from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. each Monday through Friday.

Through the program, lunch is available free of charge to all children 18 years of age and under (or persons over 18 years of age if they are mentally or physically handicapped and participating in a public non-profit school program for the mentally or physically challenged). Established to ensure that all children would be able to receive a quality nutritious meal free of charge during summer vacation, the Summer Feeding Program is available to all without regard to race, color, national origin, gender, age or handicap and shall not be excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or otherwise subjected to discrimination under the program. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, DC 20250. For more information, contact Sherry Turner, Food Service Director, at (228) 255-0376.

storm season just slightly more active than last year at a press conference at Stennis International Airport on Monday. Retired Brigadier General David L. Johnson introduced the speakers.

Predictions for the season include 12 to 15 tropical storms, 7 to 9 hurricanes of which three to five are expected to be category three or higher.

Last year there were 14 tropical storms and nine hurricanes with six of them reaching a category three or higher in strength. The press conference drew national coverage.

Category three storms have sustained winds of between 111 and 130 mph, with flooding up to eight miles inland and storm surges of nine to twelve feet. Tropical storm seasons have been increasing in intensity for about ten years, said Lautenbaucher, and are expected to continue in a similar pattern because of climatic conditions for another decade.

From 1970 until 1994 the climatic system was relatively inactive.

Eight out of the past ten years have experienced more than their normal share of tropical activity. This year is expected to make that statistic nine out of eleven years.

Air pressure, surface temperatures and upper and mid-level winds all contribute to conditions that affect the formation of hurricanes, Lautenbaucher said.

Conditions contributing very little vertical wind sheer encourage the formation of the storms. El Niño is expected to remain neutral in its influence, he said.

NOAA scientists are taking advantage of the active seasons to learn more about the relationship between ocean and atmospheric interaction, both of which work together to set up the pattern for the formation of tropical storms.

For more than 50 million people living along the Gulf Coast early warnings can make the difference between losing everything or having the time to save a few precious possessions. Still, said FEMA under secretary Michael Brown, close to 50 percent of residents polled said they had no clear cut plan of evacuation or knowledge of where to seek shelter.

Director of the National Hurricane Center Max Mayfield recommended that coastal communities pass and enforce building codes that ensure structures are built to withstand the maximum weather conditions. He also emphasized the importance of each family having a hurricane plan.

neers, welders and fabricators to network technicians and a plant manager.

Ionatron, an Arizona-based company, moved to Stennis Space Center earlier this year to continue work on various new technologies. Among them are prototype vehicles designed to neutralize roadside bombs, which have been responsible for 60 percent of American casualties in Iraq.

According to Jim Weisert, director of business development, these vehicles were developed over the course of two months—a highly exhaustive schedule. Ionatron received a contract to produce these vehicles from the Department of Defense.

"They will be deployed to the theatre over the course of the next three months," Weisert said.

As reported by the Echo on August 29, 2004, Ionatron has also been developing a portable Laser Induced Plasma Channel, which uses a laser to generate an electro-magnetic pulse (EMP) through radiation pressure.

EMP technology has always been difficult to construct, as the pulse can only be generated through a nuclear reaction. The resulting current produces damaging currents and voltage shortages, which can effectively burn out any electrical-based machinery in the area.

Thomas Dearmin, founder and CEO of Ionatron told reporters earlier in 2004 that Ionatron received a $12.6 million grant from the U.S. Department of Defense for 2005, a $9.2 million increase since the previous year's. The plant, owned by Mason Technologies, no longer produces ammunition, but has been kept in working order. Construction on the facility was completed in March, according to Bill Oster, on-site facility manager.

For more information on the job fair, contact the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce at 467-9048.

dor, and the continuation of the city's capital improvement project, which involves majors repair of the drainage and road systems.

Johnson could not be reached for comment on Wednesday afternoon.

Jeffery Reed, Ward 3, defeated Connie Payne-Lampley and incumbent councilman Thomas Farve in the primary elections on May 3. Reed, a local businessman and pastor of the Powerhouse of Deliverance church, said he looked forward to working together with his constituency to improve the neighborhoods.

While Incumbent Councilman-at-Large Bill Taylor and Ward four councilman Bobby Compretta face no opposition, all other incumbents will have to defend their seats against challengers.

Democrats Doug Seal and Jim Thriffley, from wards one and two respectively, both face Republican challengers. Seal will run against Chris Vial and Thriffley against Gerald Spotorno.

O'Keefe Educational Media Group releases signed prints by Alice Moseley

THE SEA COAST ECHO
O'Keefe Educational Media Group is now releasing signed and numbered prints of "If Only the Past Had Been So Bright" with Alice Moseley's signature (1909-2004). Each print will come with a Certificate of Authenticity. There are a limited number of signed prints available. With every donation of $100 you can request one signed print for yourself, family or a friend. Donations for museum edition prints (numbered edition) are $35, and for Alice Moseley videos a donation of $24. This donation includes shipping and handling. Tax deductible donations can be made on line or mailed to OEMG P.O. Box 4002, Biloxi, MS 39535.

The film entitled "Hello, I'm Alice Moseley" was released late last year. Funds are needed to complete this wonderful educational film project. Additional donations will be used to continue distributing the film to schools and libraries across the state, to finish paying the editing and production fees, and pay for the hosting and developing of our new Alice Moseley website.

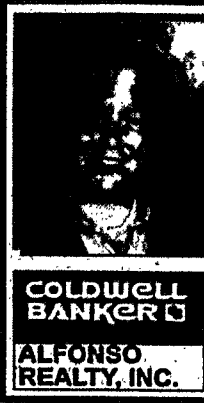

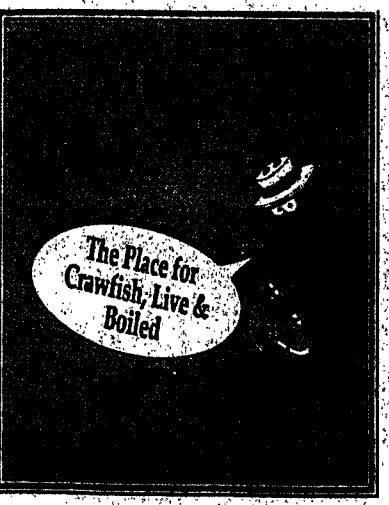

Future plans include working in cooperation with the Alice Moseley Folk Art & Antique Museum in Bay St. Louis (now a nonprofit organization) where the video will always be available. When this project is complete, plans include editing the remaining footage for a second film.

You can enjoy a streaming film with Alice Moseley on the project website www.AliceMoseley.org. Also you can go to the new museum site www.AliceMoseley.com. O'Keefe Educational Media Group, formerly Destination & Educational Videos, is a 501 (c) (3) Corporation, all donations are tax deductible.

Janie O'Keefe, Director of O'Keefe Educational Media Group, says, "Chris Snyder, producer of the film, and I have enjoyed the opportunity to be involved creating a film about this great lady. The Alice Moseley Folk Art & Antique Museum is a wonderful place to retain her memory." "Miss Alice" has been described as an idyllic folk artist, not formally trained, whose paintings reflect natural talent rather than class trained technique, creating memory art of the "child within" - Mike Cuevas, the Director of Cultural Affairs for Bay St. Louis, (228) 467-9092.

The paintings of Alice Moseley (1909-2004) have received acclaim from art critics, art educators, and art collectors. Her work has appeared in art shows and museum exhibits throughout the South. Numerous tour buses and tourists have visited Miss Alice's Studio and Home and are expected to visit the new Alice Moseley Folk Art and Antique Museum in Bay St. Louis. Mike says, "Hundreds of thousands of Mississippi students see her work entitled, 'The Town that Makes the Angels Smile', in a new elementary textbook. The public sees, 'The Pot of Gold is at the end of the Rainbow' in Bay St. Louis, as a downtown mural reproduced by local public school art students." She has been featured in Southern Living, Coastal Living, Southern Breeze magazines, and other regional publications for her art and humor.

NEWSPAPERS DELIVER VOTERS

70% of newspaper subscribers say they will "definitely vote"!

NEWSPAPERS ARE EFFECTIVE

Newspaper readership is highest among the groups most likely to vote...professionals, high income earners, the more educated and ages 35-64. Less than one of every three television viewers say they will "probably vote".

NEWSPAPERS HAVE CREDIBILITY

Newspapers score higher than any other medium in believability surveys.

NEWSPAPERS EDUCATE VOTERS

Newspapers offer in-depth coverage of local events and current issues, not just snippets and sound bites. By using this strength, Political Campaigns can get their message out to readers who tend to be "Centers of Influence" in their communities. This ability to tell the whole story helps voters make informed decisions. If you are running for political office, you need to be "in the paper"!

Hancock Chamber Career Fair set for Thursday, May 26 at PRCC Hancock Center

More than 20 exhibitors are expected to participate in the upcoming 2005 Education and Career Development Fair sponsored by the Education Committee of the Hancock Chamber with support from Pearl River Community College, University of Southern Mississippi and the Sea Coast Echo. The event will be held on Thursday, May 26 from 4 p.m.-7 p.m. at the PRCC - Hancock Center on Highway 90 in Waveland.

The Career Fair is being held to help anyone who is 17 years of age or older who wants to continue or complete their education, is considering a career change, or is simply underemployed and is in need of workforce training. The types of services offered during the fair include career technical (vo-tech), continuing and community education, workforce training, academic education and professional education. Those planning to exhibit will provide information on scholarships, financial assistance, internships, job opportunities and student employment.

"If you are looking for a new direction, we hope you will take advantage of this opportunity because it may just change your path," said Tish Williams, executive director of the Hancock Chamber.

The Education Committee of the Hancock Chamber is coordinating a directory of education and career development services, internships, scholarships, job opportunities and student employment that will be distributed to participants attending the fair. If your company, agency or institution offers these types of services, contact Ashley Boone at me Hancock Chamber to include this information in the directory: 228-467-9048.

RICHARD MCCOLLOUGH

Richard R. McCollough, born to Frank and Pearl in Benton, Illinois died on April 4, 2005 at the age of 81, of metastatic melanoma. He once wrote: "I so far have seen no evidence of life-after-death. I am going to find out, but will unfortunately not be able to report to you still living on my personal experiences." For the past 20 years, he belonged to a small but devoted Bay St. Louis, MS, group that read and discussed an incredible number (some 700 or 800) of essays, short stories, novels, poems, and histories. Also, he was reading his 51-volume set of the "Great Books" and had intensively sampled most of the 75 authors contained therein.

He valued his years in high school and at the University of Michigan, finishing at the University of Chicago. During WWII, he served as an Army Air Corps meteorologist in the Pacific. Shortly after the war, he began his 25-year marriage to Helen Zornow, with whom he raised their three children, Peggy, Scott, and Andrew.

At Beardstown High School, Illinois, McCollough wrestled and played as a 120-pound guard on the football team, on which he was nicknamed "Scholar" for his academic prowess. He and his brothers Horace "Duke" and Joe and their chums and girlfriends enjoyed boating and other activities on the nearby Illinois River environs.

Tennis was a lifelong passion. During his 17 years in Colorado, he spent many days hiking, climbing, and cross-country skiing with friends and family. He also indulged his son Scott by taking him on fishing and downhill skiing trips. In his forties, McCollough began playing rugby, a pursuit that lasted about a decade in Denver and in New Orleans and through which he made many friends. He was one of the first youth soccer and rugby coaches in Colorado, and Scott played on his teams. After moving to New Orleans with his second wife Sally (Konnak), he started windsurfing and continued this activity into his late seventies.

McCollough spent many years working in the airline and in the aerospace industry in California, Colorado, and Louisiana. He was proud of his involvement in the space program.

After McCollough retired, he traveled extensively and lived briefly in France while studying French at the University of Nice where he met and later married Narumol (Lasiri). Later in his seventies, he met his companion of the past 8 years, Lillian Smith, with whom he enjoyed ballroom dancing and traveling.

He had fond memories of his 2002 visit to Spain with Lillian. There, he visited his youngest son, Andy, his daughter-in-law, Olga, and his new granddaughter, Irene. McCollough moved to California in June to be near his daughter, Peggy, his son-in-law, Don Betterley and his grandsons Nolan and Gavin Betterley. Although Richard's time in California was brief he continued to hope he would survive his cancer long enough to explore all that the Santa Cruz area had to offer. A Memorial Service will be held on Saturday, May 21, 2005, at 1 p.m. at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis, MS.

A Memorial Service will be held on Sunday, May 29, 2005, at 3 p.m. at Sager Funeral Home in Beardstown, IL whose phone number is 217-323-2001. Memorial donations may be made to Hospice Caring Project of Santa Cruz County, P.O. Box 670, Aptos, CA 95001, or a hospice of your choice. Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis is in charge of the service.

2004 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report Kiri Water & Fire Protection District FWSP-0230050 May 2005

We're pleased to present to you the 2004 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report. This report is designed to inform you about the quality of water and services we deliver to you every day. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water. Our water source is from three wells drawing from the Graham Ferry Formation Aquifer.

The source water assessment has been completed for our public water system to determine the overall susceptibility of its drinking water supply to identified potential sources of contamination. The general susceptibility rankings assigned to each well of this system are provided immediately below. A report containing detailed information on how the susceptibility determinations were made has been furnished to our public water system and is available for viewing upon request.

Kiri Water - Well #1 230050-01 moderate susceptibility to contamination
Well #2 230050-02 moderate susceptibility to contamination
Well #3 230050-03 ranking not available at this time

If you have any questions about this report or concerning your water utility, please contact Mrs. Pat Curren at 228-255-2595. We want our valued customers to be informed about their water utility. If you want to learn more, please attend any of our regularly scheduled meetings. They are held on the second Wednesday of each month at 7:00 PM at the Fire Station.

The Kiri Water & Fire Protection District routinely monitors for constituents in your drinking water according to Federal and State laws. This table shows the results of our monitoring for the period of January 1st to December 31st, 2004. In cases where monitoring wasn't required in 2004, the table reflects the most recent results. As water travels over the land or underground, it can pick up substances or contaminants such as microbes, inorganic and organic chemicals, and radioactive substances. All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some constituents. It's important to remember that the presence of these constituents does not necessarily pose a health risk.

In this table you will find many terms and abbreviations you might not be familiar with. To help you better understand these terms we've provided the following definitions:

Action Level - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

Treatment Technique (TT) - A treatment technique is a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - The "Maximum Allowed" (MCL) is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - The "Goal" (MCLG) is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

TEST RESULTS
Contaminant	Violation Y/N	Date Collected	Level Detected	Range of Detects or # of Samples Exceeding MCL/LCL	Unit Measure	MCLG	MCL	Likely Source of Contamination
Radioactive Contaminants
4. Beta/Photon emitters	N	2004	.009	No Range	pCi/L	0	50	Decay of natural and man-made deposits
Inorganic Contaminants
10. Barium	N	2004	.019	.008 - .019	Ppm	2	2	Discharge of drilling wastes; discharge from metal refineries; erosion of natural deposits
13. Chromium	N	2004	2	1 - 2	Ppb	100	100	Discharge from steel and pulp mills; erosion of natural deposits
14. Copper	N	2000*	.378	0	ppm	1.3	AL=1.3	Corrosion of household plumbing systems; erosion of natural deposits; leaching from wood preservatives
17. Lead	N	2000*	4	0	ppb	0	AL=15	Corrosion of household plumbing systems; erosion of natural deposits
Volatile Organic Contaminants
73. THM (Total trihalomethanes)	N	2004	16.61	No Range	ppb	0	100	By-product of drinking water chlorination

* Most recent sample. No sample required for 2004.

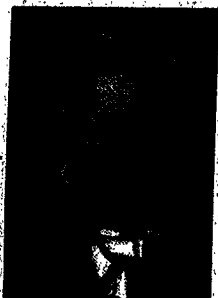

As you can see by the table, our system had no violations. We're proud that your drinking water meets or exceeds all Federal and State requirements. We have learned through our monitoring and testing that some constituents have been detected however the EPA has determined that your water is SAFE at these levels.

All sources of drinking water are subject to potential contamination by substances that are naturally occurring or man made. These substances can be microbes, inorganic or organic chemicals and radioactive substances. All drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immunocompromised persons such as persons with cancer, undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline 1-800-426-4791.

The Kiri Water & Fire Protection District works around the clock to provide top quality water to every tap. We ask that all our customers help us protect our water sources, which are the heart of our community, our way of life and our children's future.

A year ago today...
As this day begins to brighten
And sure to linger on,
I will stop to remember
It's been a year
That you've been gone.
A year ago today is when you were called home.
This day our life changed to treasured memories
and shiny stone.
I often stand beside your grave with my heart so
saddened and sore,
But often I feel your presence: as I did before.
I hope one day
to see you again,
My beloved Maw-Maw
and Dearest Friend.
I love you and
miss you so much.
Your Granddaughter, Kim

Beloved Mother,
God gave us strength to bear it

Through all these years
There are still many, many tears.
The tears, they will never end.
The joy you brought to all our lives
You still continue to send.
You would be such a big girl now!
But to me, it's like yesterday,
when I first held you in my arms.
At that very moment,
I was filled with such joy
and all your warmth,
love and charms.
We still feel your
presence around us,
In every moment, of every day.
And so, from all of us we say
Happy Birthday, Happy Birthday
Happy Birthday to you!!!!!!

Hancock Library offers up 'fun-tastic' time

Authors & Characters @ Your Library

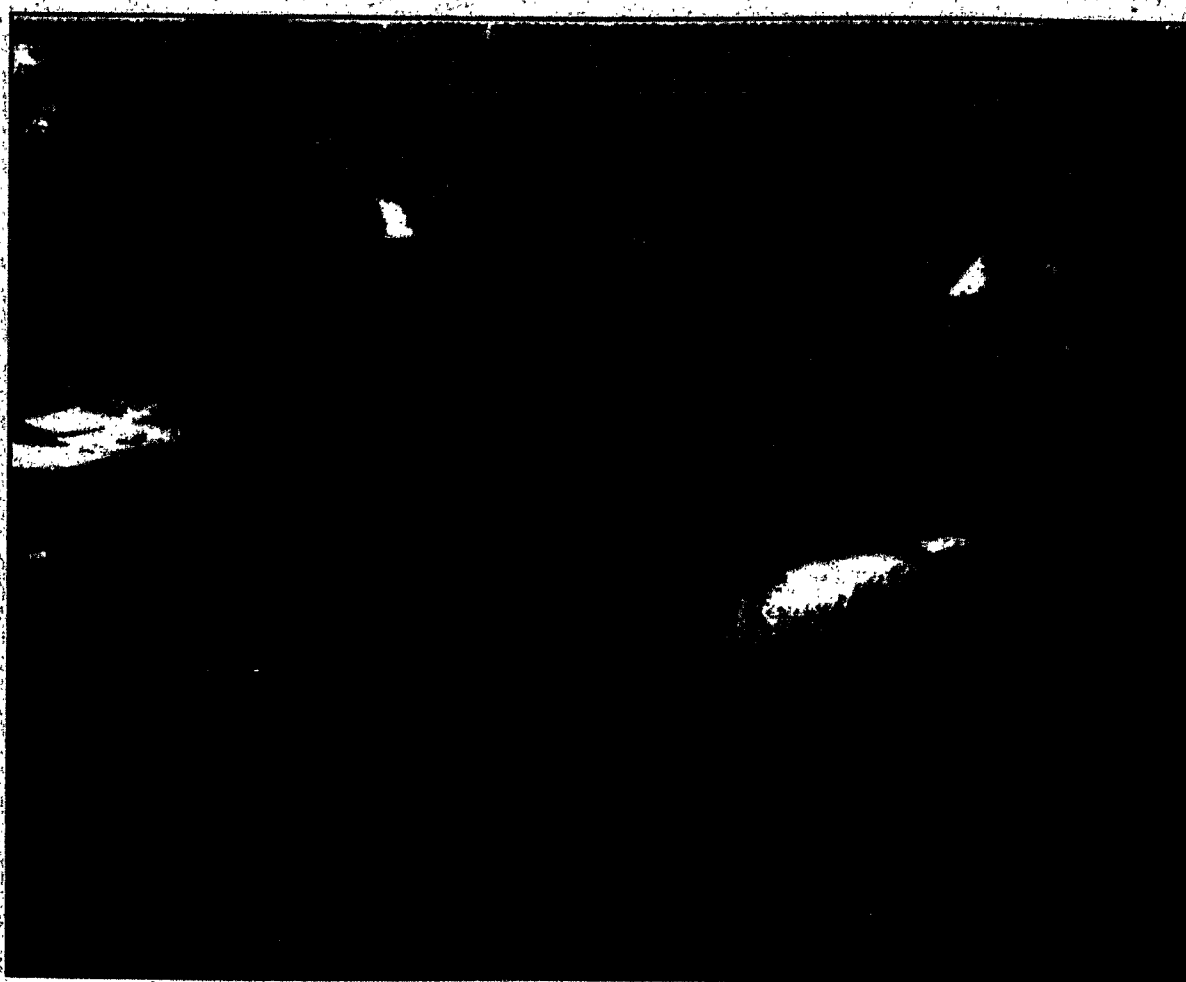

Jeanne Bowman, local author and Pass Christian resident, is the featured speaker for the next Authors & Characters @ Your Library on Tuesday, May 24 at 11:45 a.m. at the Waveland Public Library.

Bowman is the author of Uncivilized Procedure, a humorous, but highly critical, look at the Mississippi Civil Justice System through the eyes of a pro se litigant. She was born and raised in New Orleans, moving to Pass Christian in 1992. She was a riding instructor for 30 years.

Late-blossoming author and Gulfport native Terry Miles is the local author for the Authors & Characters @ Your Library on Tuesday, June 14 at 11:45 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

Captivated by television mysteries Matlock and Murder, She Wrote, Terry Miles, a USM Gulf Coast College of Education and Psychology receptionist, is currently celebrating the release of her newest book, Death Has No Appeal.

For the last 28 years, Miles has played characters in the Gulfport Little Theatre, Biloxi Little Theatre, Walter Anderson Players and many more. She is also secretary of the Gulf Coast Writers

Ian Schneider pets a king snake at the Science Smarts @ Your Library program Saturday. Todd Adams with the J. L. Get ready for summer FUNtastic Reading at Hancock libraries. Get ready kids!!

Registration for the Hancock County Library System's 2005 Summer Reading Program begins Monday, May 23. FUNtastic Reading is the theme for this year's program, which is open to children and young adults, pre-school age through eighth grade. Programs and activities begin Monday, June 6.

Programs are Mondays at 10:30 a.m. at the Waveland Public Library; Tuesdays at 10:30 a.m. at the Pearllington Public Library; Wednesdays at 10:30 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library; and Thursdays at 10:30 a.m. at the Kiln Public Library.

Each registrant receives a reading record, book bag and pencil for recording books read; and those who complete the program will receive a certificate.

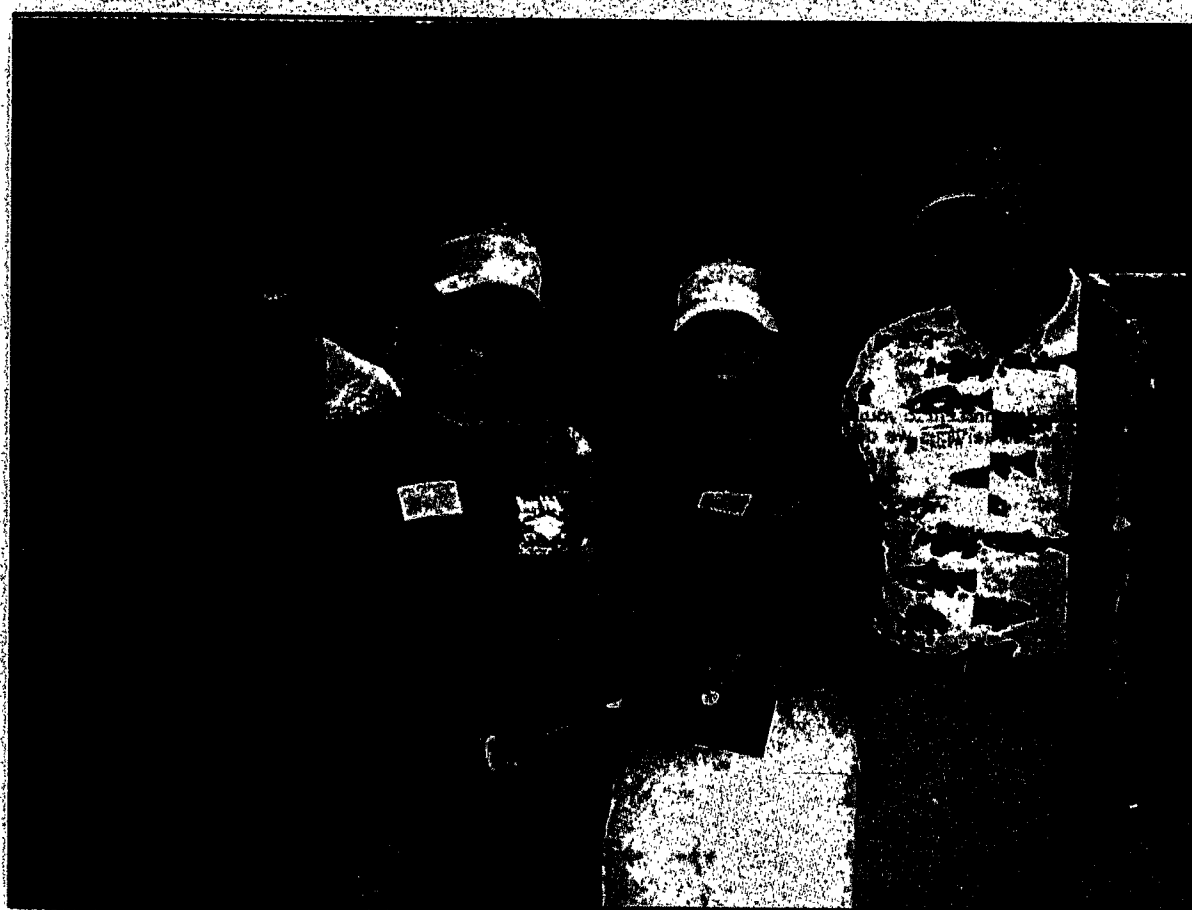

Awards and certificates will be presented the week of June 27. A library card is required to check out all books, which may be checked out at any of the library system's branches.

To register, children should go to the library branch nearest them, and then visit a branch at least four (4) times during the program, and check out at least six (6) books between May 23 and June 24. To validate each visit, each reading record must be stamped. Merit stamps will be awarded for every five (5) books reach beyond the basic goal of six books.

Programs and activities scheduled for this year's Summer Reading Program include the Red String Puppet Theater, Mr. Zippy Magic, Lou Zocchi the Magician, the Diamondhead Dancers, Terry Vandeventer the Snake Man and much more.

For more information about individual branch programs, contact Adrienne Bradley, Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library, 467-5282; Sandra Ladner, Kiln Public Library, 255-1724.

Gaits to Success hosts Volunteer Appreciation

Gaits to Success Therapeutic Riding Center held a Volunteer Appreciation Picnic May 7 at the facility on Kiln-Picayune Highway. Gaits president Chuck Benvenutti welcomed and thanked the volunteers for their efforts working with the handicapped children who come to Gaits.

Barb Kaiser, founder of the therapeutic riding program, recognized ten volunteers, who subsequently became charter members of the One Hundred Hours Plus Club by virtue of their individual offerings of more than 100 documented volunteer hours at Gaits to Success since January 2004. Certificates and gifts of appreciation were presented to Joan Belote, Cheri Heflin, Hannah Hill, Jerry Howard, Sara Minear, Paige Nelson, Regina O'Neal, Patti Roberts, Brenda Sell, and Jennifer Stiglet. A special presentation was made to Sara Minear, a graduating senior at Bay High School, who has not only volunteered more than 100 hours but used Gaits to Success as part of her senior project.

The volunteers enjoyed a picnic lunch and gourmet desserts provided by Winnie Ladner. Farrier, David Farrier David Hodges speaks to Gaits volunteers.

Hodges, enlightened and entertained the horse enthusiasts with a presentation regarding horse's hooves and proper hoof maintenance. The picnic was closed with a few words from Gaits Instructor, Jerry Howard, who reemphasized the importance of volunteers to the safety and success of the program. His comments were accompanied by sign language for the hearing impaired individuals whom he has encouraged to volunteer through his work at de Epee Deaf Center in Gulfport.

Gaits to Success provides therapeutic riding activities to physically and/or mentally impaired children and adults throughout south Mississippi. Many volunteers are needed to work in a variety of capacities. Persons interested in volunteering, engaging services or learning more about the program are asked to call Director, Carolyn Rhodes at 255-5368 or Beth Benvenutti at 467-1402.

SECOND LINERS AT JAZZ FEST

The New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival goes enjoyed the Bon Temps Roulez Second Liners as part of their Thursday line-up on April 28. The men and women of this group are associated with the Diamondhead Dance Club. Charles and Ruth Olivier are Directors of the club and provide marchers and dancers for many community events.

Willumitis receives 20-year recognition as registered EMT

Bay Saint Louis Fire Chief Robert Gagnier has announced that 30-year veteran of the city's fire department Michael J. Willumitis has been recognized by the National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians for twenty years of national registration. "Willumitis has served his community by providing care to fellow citizens in their moment of need. The Board of Directors, and the entire EMS community appreciates and commends this extraordinary contribution," said William E. Brown, Jr., Executive Director of the National Registry.

"Being recognized by the Board of Directors of the National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians for achieving 20 consecutive years as a Nationally Registered EMT is an distinctive honor held by few EMTs. To maintain his status as a nationally Registered EMT, Willumitis completed, on a biennial basis, the most comprehensive recertification program for Emergency Medical Technicians in America. He not only completed courses to refresh his fundamental knowledge and skills, but also attended a minimum of two hours per month of additional continuing education courses to advance his knowledge on new life-saving skills."

By maintaining his Nationally Registered status and completing regular continuing education courses, Willumitis is among the few elite EMTs with the most training in pre-hospital emergency medical care in the nation.

The National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians serves as the national EMS certification organization by providing a valid, uniform process to assess the knowledge and skills required for competent practice by EMS professionals throughout their careers and by maintaining a registry of certification status.

"The city and especially our department are very proud that Mike has received this recognition for his dedicated service to protect and serve the citizens of Bay Saint Louis and its visitors. He has served our department in many capacities that deserve equal recognition as his service as an EMT," said Chief Gagnier.

Willumitis has served as the department's primary training officer for the last eight years and was responsible for directing the first fire fighter recruit classes, establishing the program's goals and objectives. He continues to serve this project in a consulting capacity.

"Mike has been instrumental in developing the specifications and design of the city's fire engines throughout his career. Everyone has benefited from his knowledge and developed skills in fire safety equipment," added the Chief.

In addition to his work in Bay Saint Louis, Willumitis also works with the Diamondhead Fire Department.

Disaster drill set at HMC on May 24

Hancock Medical Center will participate in a coast-wide functional disaster response exercise Tuesday, May 24. "Lifesaver 2005" is a multi-state drill based on a fictional explosion at the ABC oil refinery plant in Vancleave.

Over 200 people will play the roles of victims who are injured or killed in the blast.

HMC will receive a total of 15 patients during the drill, three of which will be transported by air.

Bay St. Louis Police and Fire Departments will be on hand, as will the FBI and Emergency Medical Services, in order to test communication effectiveness and coordination of officials and public agencies during a disaster.

Throughout the morning hours of the drill, HMC will be on "lockdown" for the purpose of testing the Emergency Response Plan. Visitors and patients will be admitted through the Emergency Room lobby only. Barricades and check points will be set up at various points to route visitors and staff to a single monitored entrance to prevent hypothetical contamination of the hospital.

Exercises such as "Lifesaver 2005" are beneficial in identifying areas of strength or needs for improvement in a disaster response situation. Drills in years past have included such scenarios as a level IV hurricane and decontamination of victims exposed to hazardous materials.

Hancock Medical Center is an active participant in the National Disaster Medical System, an organization consisting of both federal and civilian health care facilities that are prepared to respond medically to all types of mass casualty emergency situations.

"Every employee plays a role in the Hospital Emergency Management Program. HMC participates in exercises like this in part to ensure that we fulfill our role in the Hancock County Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan," said Hank Wheeler, Director of Facilities Services.

Other area hospitals also participating in "Lifesaver 2005" are Garden Park Medical Center, Memorial Hospital at Gulfport, Biloxi Regional Medical Center, Singing River Hospital, Ocean Springs Hospital and Gulf Coast Medical Center.

Hancock Medical Center's involvement in emergency response drills is necessary to maintain our readiness to support the community in response to any disaster situation," said Wheeler.

BCE students concerned for child farm workers

Bay Catholic Elementary Students in Ms. Maria Crosby's 6th grade reading class recently read Esperanza Rising by Pam Munoz Ryan. The main character in the book became a migrant farm worker during the time of the Great Depression. As they came to the book's conclusion, a Time for Kids article came out on present day life for children farm workers. The students wrote letters to President Bush, Senators Lott and Cochran, and Representative Gene Taylor voicing their concern over work conditions and funding for these children, many of whom are their age. Letters to Mrs. Munoz Ryan were answered in a letter from the author written to Ms. Crosby's students on May 11. In the letter Mrs. Munoz Ryan said, "I am proud of your efforts on behalf of children who are farm workers. Your letters and thoughtful actions make me want to keep writing books! The author also sent autographed postcards for the students who had written to her. The students are now waiting to see if they receive any replies from their government leaders."

Choose pentas for great colors

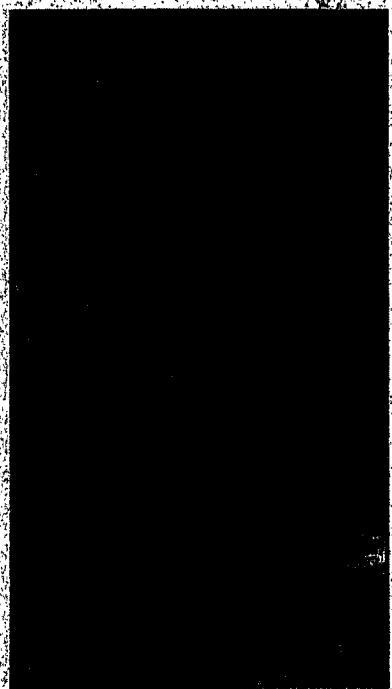

The future looks bright for pentas, one of our best groups of annuals. I've just returned from the California Pack Trials, and almost every company is introducing new series. This should be a delight to butterfly, hummingbirds and gardeners alike.

You'll be amazed at the varieties that are not only seed-produced, but vegetatively propagated as well. Lava, Bismarck and Bahama are some of the new varieties you can expect to see at garden centers probably next year, although a few may show up this year because our nurserymen are among the most progressive in the South.

Even if you don't see these varieties, you can rely on the Mississippi Medallion Award-winning Butterfly pentas. If you remember reading about our trials, there were several series of pentas, including the old standards. Pentas have long been known as a great source of nectar for butterflies.

As the butterfly season reached its peak and the pentas' trial developed into a sea of color, it astounded everyone to see the butterflies skipping the old standards to feast almost exclu-

Butterflies, hummingbirds and gardeners alike will be delighted with the many new series of pentas being offered, such as this beautiful Bismarck variety. If these new varieties are not available at local nurseries this year, gardeners can rely on Mississippi Medallion Award-winning Butterfly pentas for a lush, tropical look and tons of butterfly guests.

Some 60 to 70 seasonal workers make the journey from Mexico to Pass Christian each year to work at Crystal Seas Oysters from late September until Memorial Day.

Oyster packing plant is a family affair in the Pass

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Shucking oysters all day long may not sound like the dream job for many people, but for 60 to 70 seasonal workers who come from near Mexico City each year, the work they do for Crystal Seas Oysters in Pass Christian is a coveted position. Many other employees at the factory, who work year round, come from the Vietnamese community in the Pass.

Crystal Seas Oysters is owned and run by Phyllis and Joe Jenkins and their daughter Jennifer and her husband Clayton Williams. It's not a glamorous business, but it has brought success for the family and it sure beats working for other people, says Jennifer. In fact, that is why Phyllis and Joe first started the business back in 1981 in Deltaville, Virginia on the Chesapeake Bay.

"It was a logical choice for a business for that area," said Jennifer.

The family moved the business to Pass Christian in 1996 when they realized they were buying much of their supply of oysters from the Gulf Coast after pollution in the Chesapeake Bay caused the death of reefs there. That first year, Phyllis says, convinced them to hire seasonal help.

Each year the Jenkins are required to advertise the jobs in local papers, but Phyllis says they rarely have applicants for the positions and those that do apply may not even work through the first day. And in 2000, the first year the company hired migrant workers, out of the 18 people who came to work, seven left the first week, she said. But the rest have been coming back each year and bringing friends and family members with them.

At first the men took a Greyhound bus from their home in Mexico up to Pass Christian each September or October. Then, as their number grew, a charter bus was arranged for the group. While here they live in a small apartment complex in Long Beach each season. The Jenkins provide a bus to bring them to work and back and to the store and to run other errands.

The workers are here on and H2B work program visa and are a part of some 66,000 seasonal workers who come to the United States to work each year. Workers are allowed to stay for up to 10 months. All H2B workers pay the same taxes, both social security and income taxes, that a citizen would pay, Phyllis says, but most will never reap the benefits.

Before they arrive, a set departure date must be in place, she said, though the arrival date may vary. The company sets May 31 as a departure date though many of the men will leave at the end of this week, this year. The remainder will leave next week. Some, Phyllis says, will not ride the bus this year, but will drive back vehicles that they have purchased. The

SSC soccer player receives scholarship

St. Stanislaus College senior Andrew Smith-Parker has received a scholarship to play soccer for Pearl River Community College. Andrew is a resident student, and he finished his SSC career with 37 goals and 19 assists. According to SSC head soccer coach Mr. Andy Kivlan, "Andrew made an immediate impact for our team. His speed and attacking style of play opened up many scoring opportunities. This was most evident in the 2004 State Championship game when he was fouled in the box enabling us to convert on a penalty kick. Our opponents just couldn't slow him down, even in the mud. He'll be a great asset to Coach Hayes and the PRCC program. We wish him the best of luck." Andrew is the son of Mr. Ian Smith-Parker and Mrs. Regina Smith-Parker of Sildell, Louisiana.

Wildcat Soccer Camp set June 1-3 at Pearl River

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The 2005 Pearl River Community College Wildcat Soccer Camp is set for June 1-3 here at the school's soccer complex, according to camp coordinator and PRCC head coach Patrick Hayes.

The day camp will be conducted from 8:30 a.m. until 12 noon for two age groups (6-12 years and 13-18 years) and will cover all aspects of the game. Equipment needed will be cleats, tennis shoes, shin guards, and an appropriately sized ball (if needed, PRCC will provide size 5 balls). Campers should wear athletic shorts, socks, and T-shirts.

Cost of the camp is $75 for one camper, while the cost is $65 each for two campers, and $50 each for three campers. Campers will also receive at PRCC soccer camp T-shirt.

Checks or money orders should be made payable to Hayes.

PRCC assistant coach Chad Hampton, Oak Grove High School head coach Clay Smith, and various PRCC women and men players will assist Hayes with the camp.

For more information, telephone Hayes at (601)403-1380 (office) or (228)861-2571 (cellular). You may also write to: Coach Patrick Hayes, PRCC Wildcat Soccer, P.O. Box 5440, Poplarville, MS 39470.

PRCC baseball camps set for June

Pearl River Community College will host three baseball camps in Wildcat Stadium during June. A four-day overall skills camp is set for June 6-9, while a one-day hitting camp is on tap for June 13 and a one-day pitcher-catcher camp is set for June 14. The overall skills even costs $100, while the one-day camps are priced at $45 each. All camps will be held from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. in Wildcat Stadium for ages 6-12 and 13-18. For more information, telephone PRCC head coach Jay Artigues at 601-403-1326 (office) or 601-916-8636 (cellular).

RESTAURANT REVIEW

Presenting some of the finest restaurants on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

The Old Coffee Pot

The Old Coffee Pot Restaurant on St. Peters Street has long been a favorite of the native New Orleanian. You will find many of the local folks dining there because of the true Creole cuisine as well as the quaint, relaxed atmosphere. Now, Bay St. Louis is home to The Old Coffee Pot too.

Located at 200 A North Beach Blvd., the Old Coffee Pot is dishing up the same great Creole Cuisine and lovely atmosphere patrons of the New Orleans location have come to expect and love. Breakfast is served daily until 3 pm and what a fantastic breakfast selection it is. World famous, award winning Callas, which are traditional Coffee Pot Rice Cakes are offered with grits and real Vermont maple syrup. Add a po-boys for an interesting twist. A favorite item served on many a New Orleans breakfast table is Lost Bread and Old Coffee Pot adds a twist more than just the name. This is a delightful spicy blend of eggs, green onions, mushrooms and olives in a light cream sauce served with grits or home-style potatoes, toast or biscuit. Of course the Eggs Benedict is also an excellent choice. These eggs are served Benedict style with ham, tomatoes, oysters, topped with a sassy hollandaise sauce served with grits or home-style potatoes, biscuits or toast.

Old Coffee Pot also serves a fantastic Egg Sardou, two poached eggs atop creamed spinach and artichoke bottoms topped with hollandaise sauce. Omelets at Old Coffee Pot are unbeatable. Choose from Rockefeller, Bienville, Royale, St. Peter, Sis' Soul Food or create your own! For a real New Orleans original, try Old Coffee Pot's grits and grillards, (a favorite of mine)

Luncheon specials are offered until 3:00 and change daily. Be sure to come hungry - portions are more than generous. What New Orleans style restaurant would be complete without po-boys? Old Coffee Pot will not disappoint you in that department either. Their po-boys are not for the dainty appetite, to say they are overstuffed would be an understatement.

Old Coffee Pot has a wonderful seafood selection consisting of Blackened or stuffed redfish, trout pecan or Conti, shrimp, oysters or catfish platters and of course a seafood platter. Their creole cuisine is sure to satisfy the most discriminating palate. Select from BBQ shrimp, jambalaya, shrimp creole and more! Be sure to save room for one of Old Coffee Pot's delicious desserts. I recommend the Millionaire's Pie.

Manager, Phyllis Elder, states "We at the Old Coffee Pot insist that our food be cooked fresh per table order. In fact we use no prepared seafoods until ordered by you, our valued customer. All our seafood is delivered fresh daily. We wish to hear from you if anything does not meet your complete satisfaction."

Visit Old Coffee Pot soon and experience what New Orleanians have known for over a century - Bon Appetit!

SSC honors spring sports athletes

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

St. Stanislaus College honored their spring student-athletes involved in powerlifting, sailing, track and field, tennis, golf and baseball at an awards assembly on Sunday, May 15th.

The student-athletes were awarded certificates of participation or varsity letters. Additionally, those who achieved a 3.0 GPA or higher during their respective sport season were awarded an academic excellence certificate. Also, special awards were presented to those student-athletes who set themselves apart from the others during the season.

In powerlifting, the Coaches Award was presented to J.C. Brignone who placed fifth overall at the state championships in the 308-lb division. The Mr. Rock-a-chaw Award was merited by Chris Tran who became SSC's first ever gold medalist at the state championships with a state title in the 114-lb division.

In sailing, the Most Dedicated Sailor Award was presented to Matt Vollenweider while Josh Cameron earned the Most Improved Award. Gary Taylor earned the Mr. Rock-a-chaw Award while Chris Rogers garnered the Leadership Award. The Most Valuable Sailor Award went to Alex Boudreaux.

For junior high track and field, the Coaches Award was presented to MJ Joachim while the Most Improved Award went to Derek Miketinas. The Most Valuable Field Award was presented to Dale Johnson while David Sliman earned the Most Valuable Track Award. In varsity track and field, the Most Improved Award was merited by Brad Reinhart while the Coaches Award was presented to Chris Tran. The Most Valuable Field Award was earned by Connor Smith and Sam Hudgens claimed the Most Valuable Track Award. Bobby Nilson was presented the Mr. Rock-a-chaw Award.

In tennis, the Coaches Award was merited by Sam Hall while Josh Ellis earned the Most Improved Award. Henderson Hewes earned the Mr. Rock-a-chaw Award while Eric Cranford and Sam Hall earned Senior Awards.

For golf, James Wahl earned the Mr. Rock-a-chaw Award while Joe Muscarello claimed the Coaches Award. The Most Improved Award was presented to Dillon Shiyon and Martin Hoda.

In junior high baseball, the Outstanding Hitter Award was presented to James Abraham while Krisjon Wilkerson earned the Outstanding Infield Award. Brennen Morreale earned the Coaches Award while James Abraham merited the Outstanding Outfield Award. Ethan Haas earned the Most Improved Award and Tyler Hughes claimed the Outstanding Pitcher Award.

In varsity baseball, the Outstanding Offense Award was presented to Stephen Keel while the Outstanding Defense Award was merited by Brennen Thomas. The Most Improved Award was earned by Brooks Breland while Tyler Henry earned the Most Outstanding Pitcher Award. The Coaches Award was won by Brian Stechmann while the Most Valuable Player Award was presented to Chase Kleinpeter. The Mr. Rock-a-chaw Award was presented to Lee Klein.

Tackling local problems

Bay High Football participates in Christmas in April project

The Bay High Tiger Football team recently participated in the Christmas in April community service project. The players and coaches were broken up into groups and given designated houses. The jobs included: cleaning yards, painting, laying shingles on roofs, etc. Although the weather was messy, some groups went back later and completed the project.

Keith Pigott, Asst. Coach, said, "It is important for us to give back to this community. We are trying to instill a sense of pride and responsibility in our players for themselves, their family, school, and town and hopefully make them better people and leaders for tomorrow."

Brenan Compretta, Head

Coach, said, "Football is just part of what we're trying to teach these guys. As coaches, it is also our job to teach our players how to be productive citizens after high school. Helping others in the community is one aspect of that. We have some quality young men at Bay High and I am proud of them for their commitment to this project."

Gulf Coast Baseball School set

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Gulf Coast Baseball School at St. Stanislaus will be held June 6-9 at the St. Stanislaus Baseball Field in the Brother Philip Memorial Athletic Complex. The camp will run from 9am until 12 noon daily and is open to boys and girls ages 5-15. The cost for the camp is $60 per camper and includes a camp shirt.

There will also be a special Pitcher/Catcher camp held June 7-8 from 1pm until 3pm. The cost for the pitcher/catcher camp is $30 per camper.

Special guest instructor is Greg Drye of Mississippi State University. Camp director is SSC head baseball coach Mark Logan and instructors are Stace McRaney and Jay Ladner of St. Stanislaus.

Additional instruction will be provided by outstanding high school coaches from across the Mississippi coast. Demonstrations will be provided by local college and high school players.

Registration for the camps will be held one hour prior to the start of camp on the first day. For more information, or to pre-register, please call Mark Logan at 228-467-9057 ext 533 or 228-467-3664.

St. Clare participates in Spelling Bee

On Saturday April 16th two students from St. Clare School attended a Spelling competition held at St. Thomas School in Long Beach. Wyatt Scott in the fourth grade and Kolleen Alckien in the fifth grade represented St. Clare. There were twenty competitors and the first rounds went fast and furious. Kolleen and Wyatt both did very well and although they did not win they enjoyed the experience and did a fine job. St. Clare School is a Catholic Elementary School starting with Pre-K three through Sixth Grade. St. Clare is located on the beach in Waveland.

Oysters -- family affair

trip takes more than a day of straight through driving to complete.

Before the company built a big new building, work was completed in two shifts each day. Now work typically begins at 4 a.m. and is over when all the oysters are processed. Typically that is around 1 or 2 p.m., said Jennifer, but sometimes the work day may go on to 5 p.m. Other days it may be over before Noon. Top shuckers are Epifanio Diaz Martinez and Mai Nguyen, though many other fall close behind, say the family.

Crystal Seas processes about 150,000 sacks of oysters a season, said Joe. It is company policy, said Jennifer, to buy Mississippi oysters first, but if there are not enough available, then the family buys from Louisiana and Texas. Some of the oysters are sold in pints all the way up to gallon containers and others are quick frozen at -90 degrees to be packed and shipped on the half shell. Much of the Crystal Seas product goes to the east coast and Florida, Jennifer said.

Because the men are in town for the holidays, the family takes them out for Christmas dinner and brings by gift bags. The men bring pictures of wives and children and other family members. "We get attached to them all. We are one big happy family," said Jennifer. "Only many of the family members are from Mexico."

Garden -- plenty of color

sively on the clearly marked Butterfly series.

The Butterfly pentas are the first F1 hybrid series of pentas. This means gardeners get a vigorous plant with better blooming and uniformity.

Pentas are great bedding plants for the South and are considered a sub-shrub in Africa. While we call them pentas, much of the world calls them Egyptian Star Clusters. In fact, the name pentas comes from the Latin word for five because of the five floral petals.

The Butterfly series gives a lush, tropical look to the garden. They are available in more colors now, such as Butterfly Red, Blush, Light Lavender, Deep Pink, Cherry Red and White. Blooms will be produced in abundance all summer long if beds are prepared correctly. Place them in a bed in front of evergreen shrubs like hollies, ligustrums, wax myrtles or junipers.

Choose a site in full sun for best flower production. Prepare the bed by incorporating 3 to 4 inches of organic matter, and till to a depth of 8 to 10 inches. While tilling, incorporate 2 pounds of a slow-release, 12-6-6 fertilizer.

The next step may be the most crucial to happiness with your pentas. If your soil is acidic and you grow azaleas, camellias or blueberries with ease, you will need to add lime to your pentas' planting area. While preparing the soil, add 5 pounds of a pelletized lime per 100 square feet in sandy soil, or 10 pounds in a clay-based soil. This is recommended because pentas prefer a soil pH of 7.

Many gardeners annually apply lime to grass or vegetable gardens, and in this case, a little will help the pentas keep their flowers all summer. By the way, they're great in the vase as cut flowers.

Beau Rivage's poolside Club Tiki opens May 19

Summer has arrived and the party has moved poolside. Beau Rivage Resort & Casino once again transforms its pool deck into Biloxi's tropical hotspot as Club Tiki returns every Thursday night this summer. The Mississippi Gulf Coast's only outdoor nightclub features seductive Tiki dancers performing on platforms rising out of the pool and throughout the tropical pool area, the hottest dance music, state-of-the-art sound and lighting, 16 bars, weekly beverage promotions and a private VIP cabana area offering ultra-attentive cocktail service and a Polynesian buffet.

Open every Thursday from 7:00 p.m. to midnight through September 1, Club Tiki recreates the playful and seductive environment that partygoers have come to love, while revamping, remixing and reigniting the Coast's hottest entertainment venue.

"Going into our fourth summer, we wanted to give the Coast's hippest nightclub a new look," said George Goldhoff, Beau Rivage's vice president of Food & Beverage. "New dancers, fresh faces, sultry swimwear and eight multi-tiered dancing platforms will make a big splash. It is everything you'll want and nothing you'll expect."

Club Tiki offers a full exotic drink menu including the Topless Tiki, Tiki Splash, Jungle Fever, Freaky Tiki, Bull Tiki and the Hurricane Tiki. Each week, Club Tiki features weekly beer and specialty spirit promotions beginning with the opening night festivities May 19.

A limited-number of Club Tiki room packages are available each Thursday starting at $89 and include a deluxe pool view room overlooking the Gulf of Mexico and Club Tiki, as well as one line pass per person for expedited entry. For room reservations, call (228) 386-7444 or (888) 566-7469.

Beau Rivage Resort & Casino, named one of the top 100 hotels in the continental United States and Canada by Travel + Leisure Magazine, is a wholly owned subsidiary of MGM MIRAGE, the premier entertainment hotel and gaming company in the world. From the 31 majestic oak trees that line the front entry drive to the 1,740 elegantly appointed guest rooms and suites, the resort offers AAA Four-Diamond accommodations unparalleled anywhere in the Southeast.

For information, visit Beau Rivage's website at www.beaurivage.com.

Beauvoir celebrates Davis' 197th b-day

In celebration of the 197th anniversary of Jefferson Davis' birth, Beauvoir, The Jefferson Davis Home and Presidential Library will be hosting a good old-fashioned birthday party on the front lawn of Beauvoir house. This party will be held on Saturday, June 4 from 12 to 3 p.m. This outdoor event is free and open to the public. Admission for the museums is as follows:

Beginning at 12 p.m., admission will be: Adults, $6.50; Seniors (65+), AAA and Active Duty Military $5.75; Students (6+), $3.50; Children under 5, free.

Visitors can join in the festivities with President Davis and his wife Varina as they celebrate 197 years. The party will begin at 12 p.m. and the cake will be cut at 1 p.m. Party guests can find a shady spot on the lawn and enjoy the afternoon while spending time with the Davis'. The event will begin with Lemonade on the Lawn sponsored by Yellowbook USA. Stay for the cake cutting and enjoy this rare taste of a simpler time when we could just sit on the porch and enjoy a piece of cake, a glass of punch and spend time with family and friends.

father's farm in what is now Fairview, Kentucky. He was the tenth and youngest child of Samuel and Jane Davis. In 1811, the family moved to Saint Mary's Parish, Louisiana and in 1812 they moved to a farm near Woodville, Wilkenson County, Mississippi Territory. This year, Beauvoir celebrates Jefferson Davis' Birthday on the Saturday after this birth date.

Beauvoir, The Jefferson Davis Home and Presidential Library is a national historic landmark property of the Mississippi Division, Sons of Confederate Veterans. It is located on U.S. Highway 90 in Biloxi, Mississippi. For more information, contact the Tours and Programs office at 228-388-9074 or 1-800-570-3818.

Make-a-Wish Foundation 2nd Annual Martini Shakedown

Summer is just around the corner, and the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Mississippi - Gulf Coast Division is ready to kick it into gear with the Second Annual Martini Shakedown.

Everyone is invited to join in on the fun for this casual event and help make wishes come true for the children of the Mississippi Gulf Coast on Friday, June 3 at 7 p.m. at the Beau Rivage Resort and Casino, Magnolia Room.

The south's hottest band, Bottomline, will keep everyone dancing into the night, along with a silent auction featuring Martini gift packages by local celebrities such as Gall Pittman, an array of tempting food prepared by the casino resort's chefs, hand painted martini glasses all presented in an art deco setting and of course, the famous vacation give-a-way featuring, a Caribbean Cruise, the historic New Orleans Fairmont, Sandestin Resort, Jekyll Island Resort and many more.

There's not a better way to welcome the summer and help grant the wishes of children with life-threatening illnesses.

Tickets start at just $50 per person and corporate sponsorships are still available.

Anyone Interested in joining the event by making a reservation for this year's Martini Shakedown or by making a donation to the Foundation should contact the Make-A-Wish Gulf Coast office at 228-575-8691.

The mission of the Make-A-Wish Foundation is to grant the wishes of children with life-threatening illnesses to enrich their human experience with hope, strength and joy.

Last year, with the help of wonderful supporters and volunteers, 22 wishes were granted to children here on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. To date, 14 wishes have already been granted to Gulf Coast children this year.

Those interested in learning more about the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Mississippi, volunteering or future events should contact the Gulf Coast office at 228-575-8691 or smoses@ms.wish.org.

THE HOUSING AUTHORITY OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI 601 BIEVILLE STREET BAY ST. LOUIS, MS 39520

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS TO: Prospective Offerors SUBJECT: Request for Proposal (RFP) for Legal Services

In compliance with 24 CFR § 85.36, The Housing Authority of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi is soliciting proposals for routine legal services for its Low Income Housing Program. The Low Income Housing Program is described as the Conventional Housing Program (101 units under management). Sealed proposals for legal services for the low-income housing program for a period of two (2) years will be received by the Housing Authority of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi at 1515 4th Street South, P. O. Box 1384, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39703, until 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, June 16, 2005. Proposals will be held in confidence and not released in any manner until after the contract award. Two signed originals of the proposal must be submitted. All proposals should be clearly marked "Proposal for Legal Services, June 16, 2005 at 2:00 PM Local Standard Time". By submission of a proposal, the offeror agrees, if its proposal is accepted, to enter into a contract with the Housing Authority, to complete all work as specified or indicated in the contract award. The contract time indicated in the attached RFP and submitted in the final proposal. The offeror further accepts all of the terms and conditions of the RFP. Proposals should be prepared in accordance with the attached instructions, and will be evaluated by the Housing Authority as stated in the evaluation factors for award in the RFP. The award will be made to the responsible firm/attorney whose proposal is most advantageous to the Authority, with price and other factors considered. Questions regarding the attached RFP should be addressed to Ms. Demetria Crumby at (228) 467-4545.
